

The Friends of the Guilford Free Library present

The Italian Farmer's Table an Authentic Taste of Northern Italy

by

Matthew Scialabba and Melissa Pellegrino

Guilford natives Melissa Pellegrino and Matt Scialabba are a husband-and-wife team who first met at Adams Middle School, and then years later reconnected in Italy. Now the couple return to their hometown library to talk about their experiences visiting “agriturismi” — working family farms that provide guest accommodations in restored farmhouses. During months staying on more than 30 of these family farms, Melissa and Matt gathered some extraordinary recipes — all made with fresh, healthy ingredients. The Italian Family Table includes more than 150 of these recipes, in a sumptuously illustrated, beautiful cookbook. Copies of the book will be available for sale and signing.

Thursday March 25, 2010

7:00—8:00 pm

Guilford Free Library

Free - All Welcome - Refreshments served

Visit www.guilfordfreelibrary.org or call 453-8282 to reserve your place

More Programs on other side →